INSTAGRAM CAMPAIGN

What we do

From 10 October to 2 November we ran one daily Instagram operation. A subject is chosen, a video is made, and that same line is placed on creator accounts and on posting pages the same day. The work is not to post and leave it. The work is to set the narrative, and to answer the other side while people are still watching.

01

UGC videos

Creators post the video on their own accounts. We use every size of page, from under 20,000 followers to 500,000 and above, so the line does not sit on one kind of account.

02

Three posting lanes

The same subject then moves on Insta Political, Insta Meme and Insta Meme Premium. Political says it straight. Meme carries it further. Premium is where the larger views have come.

03

One job, done the same day

Set our narrative. Counter theirs before the day moves on. Keep the count and the views on the record, category by category.

THE RESULT

What we achieved

TOTAL VIEWS

105.99 million

2,393 pieces across 24 days. 412 UGC videos and 1,981 posts.

26.34 million

Views on 412 UGC videos. That is 63,932 views on one video, on average.

79.65 million

Views on 1,981 posts. That is 40,207 views on one post, on average.

HOW TO READ THIS

The number is the outcome. The narrative is the work.

The views did not come from one page. They came from creators of every size, and from political pages and meme pages carrying the same subject on the same day. The next two pages are the narratives that produced this.

WHAT WE PUT OUT

Narratives we ran

Three lines carried this period. Each one was made as a UGC video first, then pushed the same day on political pages and on meme pages, so it was not a single post sitting alone.

01

CJP protest

This was the running line of the period. The protest was not left as the other side’s picture of the day. Creators posted the video on their own accounts, and the posting lanes carried the same point into political feeds and meme feeds. The aim was simple: the protest should be seen on our terms, not only on theirs.

02

Amit Shah exposes Rahul Gandhi

When this subject was live, it was treated as the day’s narrative, not as a post added later. UGC and the three posting lanes went out together. The same line was also the top politics trend on X, under #ShahExposesRahul. Instagram was the video of that line. The trend was the proof it had travelled.

03

Failed rally at Ramlila Maidan

Rahul Gandhi’s rally was covered as a failure, not as a crowd and not as a success. This is the narrative that travelled the furthest in views. On Insta Meme Premium, one post crossed 1 million views, one crossed 300,000 reach, and two crossed 250,000 views. Those posts are on the last pages, with the screenshot.

WHAT WE ANSWERED

Narratives we countered

A counter only works if it goes out while the other story is still the one people are opening. These three were answered the same day, in video and in posts, not as a note after the subject had cooled.

01

The CJP protest narrative

The other side’s line was the protest itself: their frame, their wording, their picture of the day. We did not wait to reply. The counter went out as creator videos and as political and meme posts while the protest was the subject people were still watching. That is why CJP sits across so many dates in this report, not on one day only.

02

The rally as a show of strength

The picture being pushed of Ramlila Maidan was a successful rally. The line we ran was the opposite, and it was said in one line: the rally failed. The premium meme posts were built for that counter. The views on those posts, from 250,000 to over 1 million, are the reach of that answer, not of a general meme.

03

The Rahul Gandhi line

On the day the conversation belonged to Rahul Gandhi, the answer was not a separate campaign kept for later. The answer was Amit Shah exposing him, posted the same day, on UGC and on the posting lanes. One narrative was the counter to the other. That is how the two sit together in this report.

CATEGORY WISE

The work, in numbers

CATEGORY	COUNT	VIEWS
UGC videos	412	26.34 million
Insta Political	960	—
Insta Meme	956	—
Insta Meme Premium	65	—
Posts, all three lanes	1,981	79.65 million
Total	2,393	105.99 million

Views are with us for UGC, and for posts as a whole. Political, meme and premium are counted on their own. Their views sit inside the 79.65 million. They are not a second set of views on top of it.

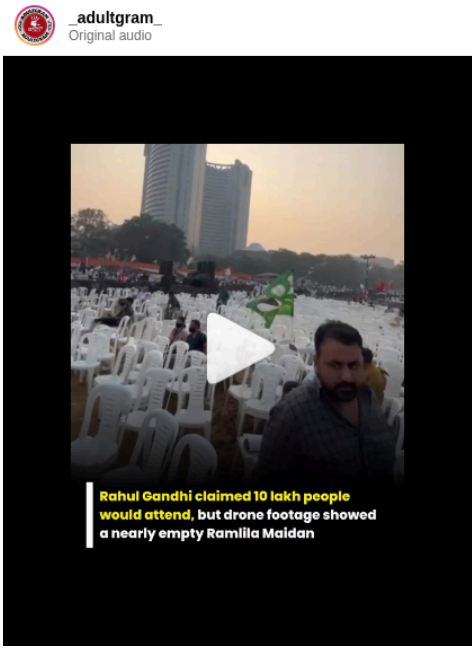

63,932

Average views on one UGC video. 26.34 million divided by 412.

40,207

Average views on one post. 79.65 million divided by 1,981.
