What we do

One subject a day. A video is made, put on creator accounts, and carried the same day onto political pages and meme pages. The job is to set the narrative, and to answer the other side while people are still watching.

01 UGC videos

Creators post the video on their own accounts. We use every size, from under 20,000 followers to 500,000 and above, so the line is not stuck on one kind of page.

02 Three posting lanes

The same subject then moves on Insta Political, Insta Meme and Insta Meme Premium. Political says it straight. Meme makes it travel. Premium is where the larger views have come.

03 Same day, not the next day

Set our narrative. Counter theirs before the day moves on. The count and the views stay on the record, category by category.

THE RESULT

What we achieved

105.99 million

Total views. 2,393 pieces across 24 days. 412 UGC videos and 1,981 posts.

26.34 million

Views on 412 UGC videos. Average 63,932 views on one video.

79.65 million

Views on 1,981 posts. Average 40,207 views on one post.

The views did not come from one page. Creators of every size posted the video, and political pages and meme pages carried the same subject the same day.

WHAT WE PUT OUT

Narratives we ran

Three lines carried this period. Each one was a UGC video first, then the same line on political pages and meme pages the same day.

01

CJP protest

This was the running line. The protest was not left as the other side's picture of the day. Creators posted the video on their own accounts, and the posting lanes carried the same point into political feeds and meme feeds. The aim was that the protest be seen on our terms, not only on theirs. That is why it sits across so many dates, not on one day only.

02

Amit Shah exposes Rahul Gandhi

When this subject was live, it was the day's narrative, not a post added later. UGC and the three posting lanes went out together. The same line was also the top politics trend on X, under #ShahExposesRahul. Instagram was the video of that line. The trend was the proof it had travelled.

03

Failed rally at Ramlila Maidan

Rahul Gandhi's rally was covered as a failure, not as a crowd and not as a success. This is the line that travelled furthest. On Insta Meme Premium, one post crossed 1 million views, one crossed 300,000 reach, and two crossed 250,000 views. Those posts are on the last pages, with the screenshot.

WHAT WE ANSWERED

Narratives we countered

A counter only works if it goes out while the other story is still the one people are opening. These three were answered the same day, in video and in posts.

01

The CJP protest narrative

Their line was the protest itself: their frame, their wording, their picture of the day. We did not wait to reply. The counter went out as creator videos and as political and meme posts while the protest was still the subject people were watching.

02

The rally as a show of strength

The picture being pushed of Ramlila Maidan was a successful rally. The line we ran was the opposite, said in one line: the rally failed. The premium posts were built for that counter. The views on them, from 250,000 to over 1 million, are the reach of that answer.

03

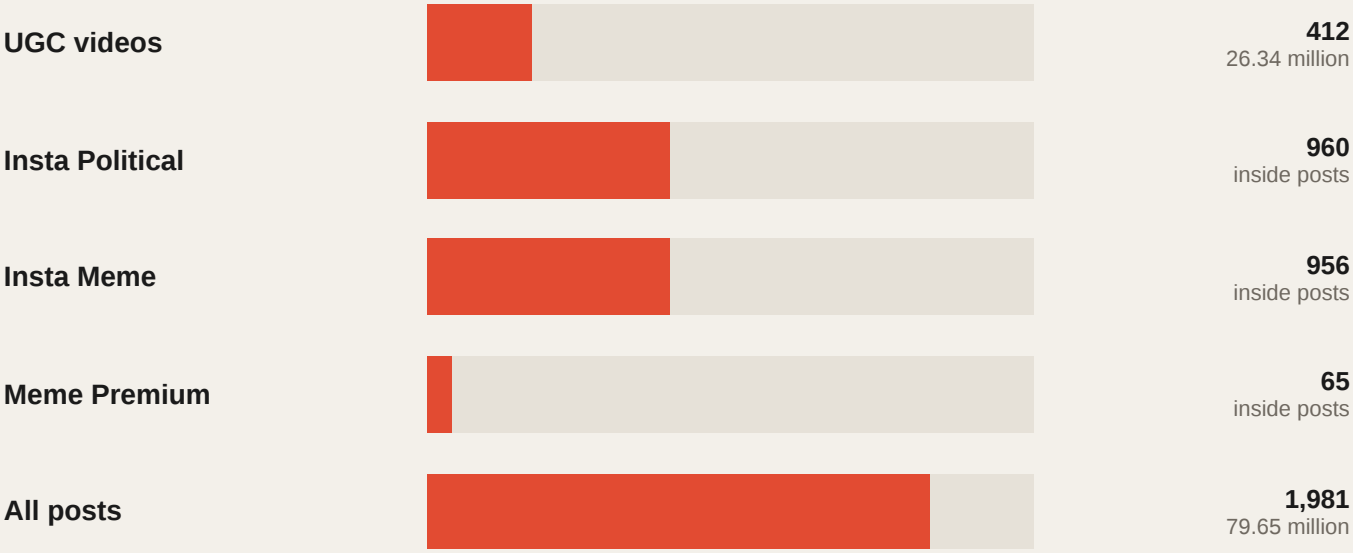

The Rahul Gandhi line

On the day the conversation belonged to Rahul Gandhi, the answer was not saved for later. The answer was Amit Shah exposing him, posted the same day on UGC and on the posting lanes. One narrative was the counter to the other.

CATEGORY WISE

The work, in numbers

The bar is the share of the 2,393 pieces. Views are shown where we have them.

TOTAL	2,393 · 105.99 million

63,932

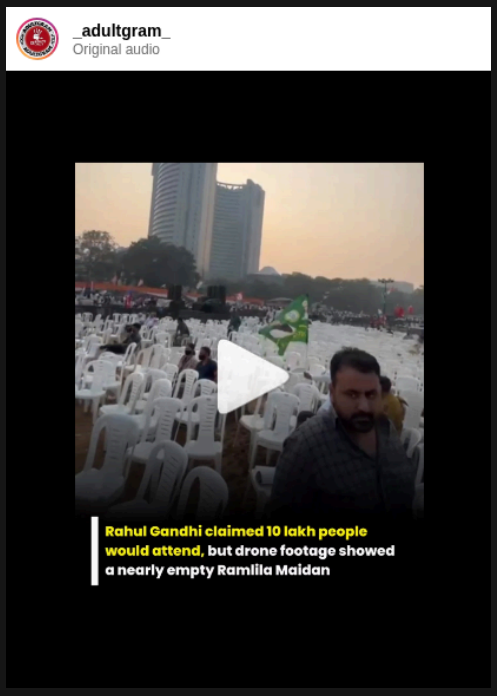

Average views on one UGC video. 26.34 million divided by 412.

40,207

Average views on one post. 79.65 million divided by 1,981.

Political, meme and premium are counted on their own. Their views are not a second number. They sit inside the 79.65 million.
